Itinerary

1 Hotel pickup (6:35 – 6:45)

We pick you up at your hotel in Cusco between 6:35 and 6:45 a.m. to begin the tour of the Sacred Valley of the Incas.

2 Chinchero (approx. 40 min)

First stop: Chinchero, a town that keeps its traditional textile and pottery crafts alive. We visit its colonial church, known for its paintings.

3 Moray and the Maras Salt Mines

We visit Moray, the ancient Inca agricultural research center with circular terraces, and then the Maras Salt Mines, more than 3000 salt pools worked by local families.

4 Buffet lunch in Urubamba

We have lunch in Urubamba: a buffet with starters, main courses and regional desserts, with vegetarian options and hot drinks.

5 Ollantaytambo (approx. 30 – 40 min)

We visit Ollantaytambo and its Inca archaeological site. If you are continuing to Machu Picchu, this is where you take the train to Machu Picchu Pueblo (formerly Aguas Calientes); the rest of the group continues to Pisac.

6 Pisac

Last stop: Pisac, with its archaeological site and its craft market. Please note that we usually arrive when the archaeological site is about to close, so the visit depends on our arrival time.

7 Return to Cusco

We return to Cusco. The transport drops you off two or three blocks from the Plaza de Armas.

Included

- Hotel pick-up: Hotel pick-ups begin at 6:35 a.m. for group tours. For private Sacred Valley tours, the pick-up time can be arranged.
- Professional bilingual guide (Spanish and English): On group tours, the tour is conducted in Spanish and English, one after the other. On private tours, you can choose between a Spanish-, English-, or Portuguese-speaking guide.
- Transportation: Tourist transportation to the attractions is included.
- Buffet lunch: We will enjoy a buffet lunch in Urubamba. Lunch: Options may include spaghetti, white meat (chicken chicharrón, lomo, beef stew, trout chicharrón), red meat (lamb stew, beef tenderloin, pork chicharrón), quinoa chaufa, legumes, Andean potatoes, as well as white rice or arroz a la jardinera (Peruvian rice with vegetables). Lunch also includes two varieties of salad: cooked (carrots and broccoli) and fresh (lettuce, cucumber, and tomato), with excellent vegetarian options. If you would like soup, quinoa soup may be available. For dessert, you can enjoy mazamorra morada, rice pudding, gelatin, or peach stew. Hot beverages include muña tea, coca tea, and coffee.
- Private tours: Breakfast and lunch are provided at higher-category restaurants offering a wider variety of gastronomic options.
